

CARD OF THANKS

To our many friends and neighbors, we wish to express our thanks for the assistance and kindness shown us during the sickness and recent death of my beloved wife, our dear mother, and cherished sister. We also extend thanks to the W. C. T. U. for the beautiful floral offering.

OTTO BARBY, Otto Barby and Children, Fred M. Beebe.

W. G. Stranathan and family left Tuesday in their Ford for a few weeks sojourn in Colorado.

Mrs. Geo. Robison left Tuesday for Billings at which place "Fatty" has been working for some time where they expect to spend the winter.

W. H. Carter left Tuesday for his usual visit in Missouri. Mr. Carter, who is an old Civil War veteran, divides his time between his children here and in Missouri.

Sheriff Jim Couch is spending a few days at Pueblo, Colorado, with his wife and no doubt getting himself in shape for the "strenuous" fall campaign, going out to that place Monday.

ONE HUNDRED AND ONE GERMAN LIES

Lie No. 85. Reports have been circulated in St. Louis to the effect that 16 soldiers temporarily quartered in the First Regiment Armory, Grand avenue and Market street, have pneumonia, and that two of them have died. Also that conditions at the Armory are unsanitary and that the men are not being given medical attention and that they are left to care for themselves.

(This lie is one that Lieut. A. L. Clark, in charge of the detachment of 1,100 men at the Armory, characterizes as a damnable one. Only seven men have been sent to the hospital from the Armory, and one of these had pneumonia. No deaths have occurred at all. One man had scarlet fever, causing the quarantining of the Armory, Lieutenant Clark said, and the quarantine will be lifted today. In fact, some of the men last night attended an entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Lieut. Dr. Harwitz is in attendance at the Armory day and night.)

Lie No. 86. Another lie showing the "delicateness" of pro-German bunk is one to the effect that an American soldier "put one over" on the censor to let his people know that the soldiers are starving. His letters are supposed to have arrived with entire sections depleted. Finally, according to the story, he suggested in the letter that his family should save the stamp as a souvenir. When the stamp was removed the message of a starving condition was found beneath it.

(This is so plainly a sample of the original pro-German lies that no refutation is needed. The American soldiers are not starving and there is no danger they will ever starve.)

Lie No. 87. Once more the lie of poisoned Red Cross yarn is being circulated. This story is to the effect that sweaters and other knitted articles are being made from yarn which is soaked in poison of deadly nature.

(There are 6,000 women in St. Louis knitting for the Red Cross. All of these women know how much of pro-German bunk the story is. It is circulated for no other reason than to hinder army enlistments, or to create a feeling of unrest in the minds of mothers.)

Lie No. 88. J. H. Gibbs of Vogt, Mo., writes the Republic that a merchant in Bunker, Mo., is telling the people there that thousands of tons of wheat, being shipped to France by the United States, is being made into whiskey and sold to the soldiers. He said he could furnish the name of the story-teller and the proof, if necessary.

(Everybody knows, or should know, that the American soldiers are not allowed to drink whiskey, either at home or abroad, and that hundreds of saloons here have been closed for selling liquor to soldiers. General Pershing in France is not allowing the soldiers more license there than they have in the United States.)

Lie No. 89. A Hamburg, Mo., woman has written to the Republic that she has been told that all knitted articles sent from America to France are knitted too loosely and must be raveled out and worked over before the garments can be worn.

(This is pure bunk—nothing more. Meant for nothing but to discourage knitting activities here. If it were true the government would not permit the shipment of sweaters and other garments, and would not allow the Red Cross, official relief branch of the army, to encourage the work.)

Lie No. 90. J. Richard Garstang, an attorney of Chamolito, Mo., reports that a retail merchant of that place is circulating the tale that in Gasconade county, relatives received the bodies of two soldiers, sent back from camp for burial, with the caskets marked "Contagious, Do Not Open." It was further averred that when the parents opened the caskets, the soldiers were found to have two bullet holes each in their heads.

(This faint attempt to jam the machinery of the national army furnishes denial in itself. The war department has announced repeatedly that official publication of all deaths in the national army will be made, regardless of the nature of such deaths. If soldiers are to be shot, notification of their death penalty will be spread broadcast as a warning to others. Just another morsel for the unintelligent to chew on is this obviously pro-German lie.)

Lie No. 91. A report from Cuba said the body of a soldier, who died at Camp Funston, had been shipped by express to his widow in Cuba, with collect charges of $12, and that the widow had to procure the sum from friends, being herself without funds.

(This report has been denied before, it being the revival of a tale which could be circulated without eliciting any immediate facts. The body in question was found to have been accompanied by an officer from Camp Funston, with all expenses paid by the government.)

Lie No. 92. Similar to the Cuba case is this from Steelville: The body of a soldier, who died at Camp Funston, was sent to his mother with charges, collect, the woman having to pay between $20 and $30.

(A letter was sent to the railroad agent at Steelville, asking him to verify the report. He wrote back: "The report is a lie. The body of Thomas Gruver was sent here collect, but the government paid all of the charges from this end. They handle all of their shipments that way.")

Lie No. 93. J. B. Hinchey of St. Louis told the Republic he had heard reports that 15 to 18 aviators are killed daily at Scott field, near Belleville, about which the public hears nothing. He said this report no doubt caused anxiety among mothers whose sons are now or will be in the aviation service.

(It is just this purpose for which such pro-German bunk is circulated. The war department is giving to the public information of every death that occurs anywhere in the army, no matter in what branch, and without regard to whether death results from natural or accidental causes.)

Lie No. 94. A St. Louis woman writes the Republic of hearing the story that all our wheat is sent abroad to make whiskey. She said she had heard of a woman who refused to sign the Hoover pledge on the ground that she would not do without wheat flour because whiskey is made of all that is sent abroad.
